Your Assistance is Requested

Our highly esteemed member, Phillip King, is seeking another keen companion to assist him in the Department of Fixings and Fastenings.

Phillip offers excellent conversation, a happy face and in depth training in the alphabetical and numerical systems.

Please meet up on your shed day and join in the fun of sorting and shelving our extensive collection of fastening devices.

Your contribution to the successful operation of this department entitles you to an extra gingernut per month. (Reviewed annually)

The only qualifications required are a happy smile, good conversation and preferably 2 hands and 2 legs. (Although the latter is not essential!)

Who Are You?

We have a member who is a Sound Engineer with a sound mixing desk.

Could he please contact the editor (editor@msae.nz)
