Tuesday Talks

Don Morrison is taking a trip down country to return a carving from a course he attended as a teenager. This was presented to his father and inherited by Don. After researching its history, Don has decided to return it to the Carvers Marae.

Project Report

Hello, Hello, Hello, what's going on here then? A COPPER perhaps!

Our ever-resourceful blokes in the shed are always coming up with innovative ideas. Here Douglas Ormrod and John Edwards have turned an old copper that used to be used for washing clothes into a cool planter.

Worth a few bucks to the shed, for the right buckeroo!

Last week we delivered more Slab Seats to the Remuera Golf Club.

The Golf Club Management and Board were thrilled with the quality of our work. The build team comprised Don Liggins (Engraver), Ian Hollister, David Blackmore, and Barry Eagland. Alan Minson was the liaison man. Securing the order, organizing materials, and delivering in style. The order, placed by RGC's Spencer Cooper, was for 3 macrocarpa slab seats for the ladies' tees. Two were slab only and the other was complete with legs. The guys did such a great job that the Club is looking at more orders.

Sheddie Mark Jones Woodturning Skills are Impressive!

Here's a vase he recently made in our shed.
Turning square into round, hollowing out the center, and including some stylish laminations.

His second version is on the lathe as you read this.
Check it out if you get the chance.
